

languages everyone special Samoa understand proud poster

Every year in New Zealand we celebrate different languages. This week we are celebrating the Gagana Samoa - Samoa Language.

Each year there is a theme to the week. This year it is 'Mitamita i lau gagana, maua'a lou faasinomaga' which means 'Be of your language and grounded in your identity'.

The more we learn about our language the more we are proud about our identity.

Identity is all about who you are and what makes you special. It's like a big collection of things that show what you like, what you enjoy doing, and how you see yourself. It's what makes you unique and different from everyone else.

Next week I will be sharing a poster about myself that shows you what I think makes up my identity.

Manuia le vaiaso o le gagana Samoa!

Once you fill the gaps, copy and paste the writing above into your blog post that you have put your Samoa language post into.

Malo lava! (Well done!)
